There Is Promise of a Close Market for Remainder of

THE TAXES ARE COMING IN

Improvement in the Vital Matter of Collections.

The past week in financial circles has been one without special features. The bank clearings continue to show up behind those of the corresponding days of last year, but the president of one of the largest banks in this city explains padding engaged in last year by a number of the local banks, but which this year has been largely eliminated this year has been largely eliminated by more sensible ideas. So, while it may be rather quiet at present in money circles, the difference is by no means wholly due to shrinkage of business. The demand for money is fairly steady, the call coming from stockmen mostly. There is promise of a close market for the remnant of the year, as taxes are coming in, and the date of final distribution to the public institutions will not come for several weeks yet. But when these moneys are put in circulation, conditions will be easier.

HENRY CLEWS'S REVIEW.

HENRY Clews in his circular letter of this week, says:
 "So far as the general situation is concerned, the real tendency is towards improvement. The interior is already beginning to feel the stimulus of a satisfactory harvest. The west has cut loose from politics; seems unconcerned about the money outlook, and is altogether in a decidedly more hopeful frame of mind. The recession in business at the west has been much lighter than at the east, and the general feeling in that section is that the tide has turned, and that from now on improvement will be in order. At the south conditions are generally satisfactory, chiefly because of the general profits realized in cotton growing. There is a singular absence of complaints of any kind from that quarter. In the east, where depression has been much the keenest, the indications of revival are becoming more pronounced. Trade is still below the volume of several preceding years, but here, too, are indications of a turn in the tide. The steel industry must still be considered one of our best trade barometers. It is stated that only 65 per cent of the blast furnace capacity of the great Steel Corporation is now being operated. In various directions, however, signs of betterment are multiplying. The inquiry for pig Iron during the last week has shown a decided revival. Henry Clews, in his circular letter of ed. In various directions, however, signs of betterment are multiplying. The inquiry for pig iron during the last week has shown a decided revival, indicating that industrial establishments see better times ahead. Moreover, before very long the railroads are likely to enter the market as larger purchasers, and their transactions are always the most important and significant factors in the steel industry.

RAILROAD CAUTION.

"For many months the railroads have curtailed purchases and postponed improvements as far as possible. Such economy cannot go on indefinitely and ere long we are likely to see an accumulation of orders that will impart old-time activity to our steel mills. For reasons of their own the railroads have further delayed the placing of orders until having some idea as to what the outcome would be of their claims for better rates before the interstate combetter rates before the interstate com-mission. These decisions may be ex-pected soon after the elections. In all probability the ratiroads will obtain some concessions; while traffic has been so well sustained in spite of the

Comforting Words

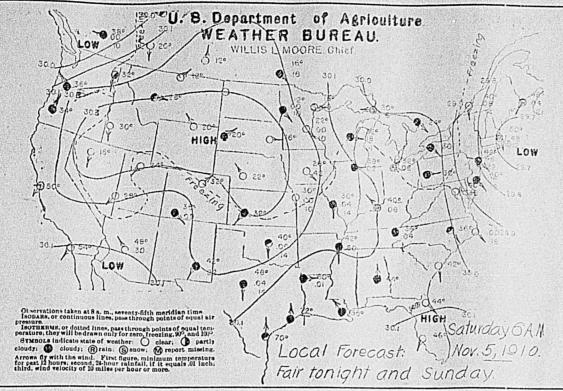

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Salt Lake City readers. Samuel Coleman, Third Ward, Heber, Utah, says: "Five years ago I began to suffer from kidney complaint. I had pains across the small of my back and the kidney secretions became irregular in passage. As time passed my condition grew worse and was so miserable that my life was a burden. About two years ago Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I began their use. They helped me from the first and it was not long before I was cured. 1 had previously tried many other kidney remedies, but had not received relief and I was thus convinced of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, The cure they effected has been perman-

WEATHER FORECAST. For Salt Lake City and Utah: Fair onight and Sunday.

WEATHER SUMMARY

The Atlantic coast storm has moved northward along the coast and its center this morning is off the Massachusetts coast. It was attended by rains In the northeast. The northwest and eastern high pressure area have joined, forming an immense area of high pres-sure covering the entire country west of the Mississippi river. It is colder in the Rocky mountain states and east-ward thereof to the Mississippi river. An area of low pressure is appearing in the extreme northwest accompanied by rising temperatures.

Fair weather is indicated for this vicinity tonight and Sunday.

COMPARATIVE DATA FOR SALT LAKE CITY,

The highest temperature yesterday was 49 degrees; the mean was 41, or 4 degrees below normal. The lowest this morning was 33 degrees. The temperature record shows an accumulated excess for this month to date of 27 degrees, and for the year of 883 degrees. The relative humidity yesterday at 6 p.m. was 43 per cent, and this morning at the same time 44 per cent, The precipitation for the year to date was 9.10 inches, which is 4 37 inches below normal.

rates have not been at any time seriously imperilled.
"Before very long funds will begin to return from the agricultural districts, and western farmers, it is said, are borrowing this year less than usual. Western bankers seem to anticipate a plethora of idle funds next winter, which means that money will ultimately accumulate at this center and bring in lower rates and rising bank reserves. In the bond market there has been considerable improvement, and the outsiderable improvement, and the out-look is now more hopeful than for some time past, although the recent decline in stocks has temporarily checked the investment demand."

HARDWARE TRADE.

The hardware trade reports that Oc-tober was a marked improvement in the vital matter of collections, although sales were not as lively as they might There is a healthful feelhave been. There is a healthful feeling in the trade, especially with regard to the new year. The trade at present is calling for staples and filling in orders, but when snapping cold weather comes, there is sure to be a big demand for stoves and heaters of all kinds. But at present the unusually mild climate is holding back that branch of the trade. The traffic in skates, coasters, sleds and holday goods is starting in encouragingly. An agreeable feature ers, sieds and holiday goods is starting in encouragingly. An agreeable feature of the market is the good business now being done in heavy mining machinery. One prominent local firm, that of the Galigher Machinery company, has received by cable from a Spanish mining company, a large order for heavy machinery, which is being shipped.

LUMBER OUTLOOK. *

The lumber trade reports that the railroads are sldetracking string after string of cars loaded with nonperishable freight to make way for grain crop car riage, which greatly interferes with the lumber traffic. Then the jobbing market is even further down than was anticipated. This operates very nice-ly for the consumer, but for the manu-facturer and wholesaler it is rather depressing. The cement market is about all in for the season, and as soon as hard, cold weather comes, it will end entirely until spring.

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS. The wholesale dry goods trade reports locally that the advance sales for spring are better than last season, with a demand for zephyrs, cottons in special lines, dress goods and ginghams. General trade has been affected somewhat unfavorably by the unseasonably open. eral trade has been affected somewhat unfavorably by the unseasonably open weather, which is too mild for heavy weight goods, so trade in seasonable lines is later than usual. In the general market jobbers report prices as rising steadily, with higher quotations on cotton fabrics. Wholesale stocks are low, but the demand is broadening. There is a steady sale of gray goods. on cotton fabrics. Wholesale stocks are low, but the demand is broadening. There is a steedy sale of gray goods. Wholesalers in the west report the demand for staple print goods is growing steadily, and fancy prints of various kinds are firmer, being ordered more freely. Gingham specialties are strong. The volume of voiles, grenadines, marquisets, zephyrs and other sheer light weight woven fabrics, called spring wash goods, are going well. The knit goods outlook is unsatisfactory, as trade requirements are increasing, while buyers are unwilling to meet prices based on costs. There is to be a further advance on linens, owing to high priced flax, with the new crop poor in quality. The burlap supply is insufficient. There is a slackening in silk demand, the bulk of initial spring orders placed by buyers. Business in silks is spotty—not wholly satisfactory, with prices of piece goods stiffening.

RETAIL DULL. The retail trade reports that up to within the last week, business was satisfactory; but the advent of the last week before election has turned the attention of people to things other than things commercial, so business is not so active. However, the week's trade is ahead of last year's record. The call for suits is quite strong in special lines. In underwear, the mild weather has retarded trade, but with the advent of cold the demand will stiffen. There is a fair call for silks.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever-had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks."—Schramm-Johnson Drug Co.

BUSINESS NOTES

The week has been rather dull in local stocks, almost the entire activity baving been in the sugars. All the factories are running smoothly, and the open weather of the last month means that one of the largest disbursements to the farmers in the history of the industry, will take place Nov. 15, when the October best deliveries will be paid for by the sev eral sugar companies. The deliveries will all be closed by the end of the will all be closed by the end of the present month, and the final disburse-ment to the farmers will take place Dec. 15. The best disbursements are expected to exercise a favorable influ-ence on the tight money conditions ence on the tight money which have lasted so long. The following are the latest quota-
